The children enthusiastically participated in Dot Delivery, where they jumped on colourful dots and placed them in the matching colours. In Dot Engineering, they explored building and creating without lifting, encouraging them to think differently. During the Dot Scavenger Hunt, children searched for coloured dots and sorted them into matching glasses. They also enjoyed Rolling Dot – "Where Will It Go?" and Match the Dots, exploring movement, colours, and patterns.

The celebration provided a joyful hands-on learning experience, encouraging creativity, curiosity, coordination, colour recognition, problem-solving, and independent exploration in our little learners.
