AHRAV DAWDA

For Ahrav, words are the best mediators, whether through speech, music, or poetry. Alongside his world of words, Ahrav deeply loves finance, especially the stock exchange. He is pursuing a B.Com with a major in finance while working at Urban Money to gain hands-on experience in the professional world. From rhetorical speech to negotiating deals, Ahrav does it all. Beyond his professional life, he is actively involved in fitness and sports. For Ahrav, life has no meaning if your body doesn't keep moving. To support this belief, Ahrav was a professional swimmer, from which he carries forward the lessons of discipline, consistency, and a hunger to conquer. Ahrav is excited to see every delegate, chair, and guest at the event, and hopes that everyone comes with the same enthusiasm to make the most out of this experience.
