AMAN YADAV

Rooted in the ancient intellectual soil of Varanasi and shaped by the rigorous culture of Kolkata, Aman Kumar Yadav is an economist, institution-builder, and emerging public intellectual, Postgraduate Scholar in Economics with specialisations in Finance and Energy at Banaras Hindu University. As Co-Founder and Convenor of Tarkshetra, he has shaped the thinking of over 13,000 students across India, driven by a singular conviction that the most powerful infrastructure a nation can invest in is the reasoning mind of its youth. He serves as a Consultant at Bootstrap Incubators, a Member of the Indian Economic Forum, a Member of Invest India, and a Market Analyst and Researcher in Foreign Debt Policy, Public Finance, and International Relations. His tenure as President of the BHU Central Placement Cell, collaboration with the British Council project, and recognition as a State-level Sportsperson reflect a man who leads across disciplines without losing depth in any. A part of the Model United Nations & Youth Parliament ecosystem since 2016, Aman brings nearly a decade of diplomatic thought and deliberation to the Chair with one unwavering belief: "Debate is not noise. It is the sound of democracy and the system working."

REYANSH VIDYARTHI

Reyansh Vidyarthi is an individual who approaches his endeavors with the utmost dedication and holds himself to a standard of both success and meaningful accomplishment. Deeply invested in UN Political Affairs and the Department of Political and Peacebuilding Affairs (DPPA), he is dedicated to this pursuit by developing proficiency in all six official UN languages, starting with his DELF B2 Diploma in French. Over the past two years in the Nagpur MUN Circuit, he co-founded Rising Voices MUN—one of Vidarbha's largest government-recognized, nonprofit MUNs, which raises money for the UNICEF India Fund to aid underprivileged children. Additionally, he served on the Core Secretariat of BVMASHMUN 5.0, an event that has consistently amassed over 500 delegates across its five-year history. Participating in MUNs has been a transformative experience for Reyansh, shaping who he is today and guiding who he strives to become. As the Scribe of the UNSC at MIMUN'26, he plans to deliver that same impactful experience to every single delegate in the room, maintaining the highest standard of dedication—a standard he hopes every Executive Board in the Nagpur circuit continues to uphold.
