SEPTEMBER SYNOPSIS

2025-26

FOR THE GLOBALITES

Education is the truest form of illumination. Just as a lamp lights up the darkest corners, education lights up the human mind and liberates it from the shadows of ignorance. It is not confined to books or classrooms alone, it is a lifelong journey of self-discovery, values, and wisdom. When nurtured with patience, discipline, and compassion, education empowers our children to face life with confidence and integrity.

As we welcome Diwali, the festival of lights, let us also reflect on the deeper symbolism it carries. The triumph of light over darkness, knowledge over ignorance, and good over evil reminds us of the purpose of true education. May this festive season inspire us to instill in our children the courage to choose what is right, the humility to remain grounded, and the wisdom to spread light wherever they go.

As we are on the verge of the festival of lights, I extend my heartfelt wishes to you and your family. May your homes be filled with joy, peace, and prosperity, and may the light of learning continue to shine brightly in the lives of our children.

LITERACY DAY

“Teachers plant seeds of knowledge that grow forever.”

“Onam is not just a festival, it is the spirit of togetherness, harmony, and gratitude.”

A special assembly was conducted to celebrate Teachers’ Day and Onam. The assembly began with a discussion on the significance of Teachers’ Day, where children learned about Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, whose birthday is observed as Teachers’ Day in India. They understood the importance of teachers in guiding, inspiring, and shaping their lives.

The assembly also highlighted the festival of Onam, which marks the homecoming of the noble King Mahabali. The students learned the story of Onam through an engaging video presentation, which made the tradition and cultural values more meaningful. In addition, a bulletin board display showcased vibrant images and information about Onam as well as Teacher’s Day, helping the children to connect with the essence of the events.

The assembly was both informative and enjoyable, as it gave the students an opportunity to value their teachers and also appreciate the cultural heritage of India.
