'Celebrations are not just about lights and colours, but about hearts coming closer.'

Dear Parent,
Greetings!

We are delighted to step into the festive month of October, a season that fills our hearts with joy, togetherness and the spirit of celebration. To help our children cherish the beauty of this time, the theme for the month is “Carnival of Festivals.” Through it, our young learners will discover that festivals are not just about fun, but also about spreading happiness, sharing light and respecting traditions.

The value of the month – “Celebrations” will encourage children to realize that festivals bring people together, strengthen bonds of love and friendship and fill our lives with positivity. They are the essence of our culture, teaching us to embrace diversity with joy and reminding us that true happiness multiplies when shared.

This October, we will celebrate Diwali and Halloween Day with enthusiasm and creativity. Children will also gain an understanding of the significance of Goverdhan Pooja, Bhai Dooj and Chhath Pooja. Each occasion will provide opportunities to nurture values of love, gratitude and unity while creating lasting memories.

We look forward to a month glowing with light and creativity, where children grow in confidence while learning the values of unity, joy and respect for all cultures.

POSITIVE PARENTING

'The true spirit of the festival lies not in the celebration, but in the love, values and in the memories we create together.'

October is a time not only to enjoy festivities but also to help children understand the deeper values they carry—respect, gratitude and the importance of traditions. By celebrating meaningfully, we guide them to appreciate culture while growing into thoughtful and responsible individuals. You can support your child in the following ways:

Here are some simple ways you can support your child this month:

- 1. Celebrate Together: Encourage your child to join in festivals with friends as shared experiences build bonds and lasting memories.
- 2. Highlight the Meaning: Discuss the significance of each festival so your child learns to value diverse traditions.
- 3. Instill Sharing & Caring: Guide kids to distribute sweets, gifts, or food to neighbors, friends, and the needy, fostering kindness and compassion.
- 4. Eco-friendly Celebrations: Involve children in using eco-friendly materials (like clay diyas, natural colors, paper decorations) to teach respect for nature.
- 5. Promote Respect & Gratitude: Encourage children to greet elders, seek blessings, and express gratitude for the abundance in their lives.

Festivals are not just about lights, sweets, and celebrations, but also about nurturing values in our children. By celebrating with meaning and involvement, parents can help kids grow with respect for traditions, love for family, and compassion for society. Together, let us make every festival a joyful journey of learning, bonding, and spreading happiness.

Warm Regards,

Principal
